

CONTENTS

Foreword	xxi
SECTION I: Buying into the Roadmap
A. Introduction	1
Neil W. Hamilton and Carl J.L. Numrich
B. How to Use the Roadmap	3
1. Students with Modest Work Experience Who Do Not Yet Have Postgraduate Employment	4
2. Students with Substantial Work Experience Who Do Not Yet Have Postgraduate Employment	4
3. Students Who Already Have Postgraduate Employment	5
C. The Importance of Transferable Skills or Competencies	6
Neil W. Hamilton, Bryan M. Wachter, and Sarah Schaefer
D. Help Wanted: Legal Employers Seek New Lawyers with Professional Competencies	7
Neil W. Hamilton
1. Assessment Competency Models	8
a. What Attorney Generals are Assessing	9
Neil W. Hamilton and Sarah Schaefer
b. What Large Firms are Assessing	10
Neil W. Hamilton
2. Hiring Models	14
a. The Competencies That Regional Legal Aid Offices Look at in the Hiring Decision	18
Neil W. Hamilton
b. The Competencies that County Attorneys Offices Look at in the Hiring Decision	19
Neil W. Hamilton and Peter G. Leslie

c. The Competencies that Small Law Firms Look at in the Hiring Decision	20
Neil W. Hamilton and Peter G. Leslie
d. The Competencies that Large Law Firms Look at in the Hiring Decision	22
Neil W. Hamilton
e. More Data on Competencies	23
3. The New Legal Economy and Transferable Competencies	23
Neil W. Hamilton and Bryan Wachter
a. A Dynamically Changing Legal Marketplace	23
b. What Can We Learn from Competencies Needed for Business?	26
c. The Transferability of Legal Competencies	32
d. The Transferability of Business Competencies to the New Legal Economy	32
e. Lessons for Law Students	33
4. What Clients Want	35
Neil W. Hamilton
E. Lessons from Entrepreneurship	39
Neil W. Hamilton and Carl J.L. Numrich
1. Introduction	39
2. Embracing Your Entrepreneurial Spirit	39
3. The Entrepreneurial Process	40
a. The First Step	40
b. The Second Step	41
c. The Third Step	42
d. The Fourth Step	42
e. The Fifth Step	46
4. Conclusion	46
F. The Key End Result	47
Neil W. Hamilton and Carl J.L. Numrich
SECTION II: The Roadmap for Employment Template
A. Introduction	51
Neil W. Hamilton, Bryan M. Wachter, and Carl J.L. Numrich
1. Component No. 1: What Is My Value Proposition before Beginning the Roadmap?	51
2. Component No. 2: Where Do I Begin? Self-Evaluation	52
3. Component No. 3: Getting to Know Areas of Employment That Might Fit Me	53

4. Component 4: Defining My Value Proposition for My Most Promising Employment Options	53
5. Component 5: Planning Your Remaining Time in Law School	54
6. Component 6: Effectively Communicating Your Value	54
a. Value Proposition	54
b. Keep in Mind	54
B. The Roadmap Template	55
Neil W. Hamilton, Carl J.L. Numrich, Bryan M. Wachter, and Colin Seaborg
C. Timeline for Roadmap Steps	73
Neil W. Hamilton, Carl J.L. Numrich, Bryan M. Wachter, and Christopher Damian
1. 1L Fall Semester	73
2. 1L Spring Semester	74
3. 2L Fall Semester	74
a. Ongoing over the 2L Year	74
b. June (Prior to Beginning of 2L Year)	75
c. July (Prior to Beginning of 2L Year)	75
d. August (Prior to Beginning of 2L Year)	76
e. September	76
f. October	76
g. November	76
h. December	76
4. 2L Spring Semester	77
a. January	77
b. February	77
c. March	77
d. April	77
e. May	77
5. 3L Year	77
a. Ongoing	78
SECTION III: Developing Differentiating Competencies
A. Introduction	79
Neil W. Hamilton
B. Trustworthiness: Building Lasting Professional Relationships	80
Neil W. Hamilton and Bradley Yenter
1. A Starting Point for Reflection	81
2. Implications for Law Students Seeking Employment	81

3. Deconstructing Trustworthiness	81
4. Becoming a Trusted Advisor	84
5. Tips for Law Students	86
C. The Basics of Good Judgment	87
Neil W. Hamilton
1. Good Judgment Is Developmental	90
2. Understanding the Overall Context of the Client's Issues and the Client's Business	90
3. Internalizing the Habit of Actively Seeking Feedback, Dialogue on the Tough Calls, and Reflection (FDR)	90
4. A Personal Board of Directors	91
5. Learning from Bad Judgment and Mistakes	92
6. Thinking, Fast and Slow for Lawyers and Clients	93
a. System 1 and System 2 Thinking	93
b. System 1 Errors of Intuitive Judgment	94
c. A Lawyer's Role in Thinking, Fast and Slow	96
7. Developing a Portfolio of Examples of Good Judgment	96
D. Initiative, Drive, Work Ethic, and Commitment to Professional Development	97
Neil W. Hamilton and Catherine Underwood
E. Commitment to Others	104
Neil W. Hamilton and Christopher Damian
F. Dedication and Responsiveness to Clients	107
Greg Stephens
1. Client Service	107
2. A New Mindset	107
3. Needs, Wants, and Expectations	108
4. Treat Professors as Your Client	109
5. Keep a Journal or Portfolio	110
G. Building Relationships Based on Trust through Networking	111
Neil W. Hamilton, Colin Seaborg, and Robert Maloney
1. Proven Performance	111
2. Networking Not Working?	112
a. Introversion as an Obstacle to Effective Networking	112
b. "Instrumental" Nature as an Obstacle to Effective Networking	114
c. Being "Too Busy" as an Obstacle to Effective Networking	115
d. Not Knowing Where to Begin as an Obstacle to Effective Networking	116

3. How to Network Effectively	117
a. Identifying Your Most Promising Employment Options and Target Relationships	117
b. Preparation	119
c. Initiating the Relationship	121
d. The Meeting	121
e. Follow-Up	126
f. Growing Your Relationships: Continuing Contact	127
g. Expanding Your Network	129
h. Demonstrating Evidence of Your Professional Development and Networking Competency	130
4. Conclusion	132
APPENDIX III.A: Assessment of Developmental Stage of Networking Skills	133
APPENDIX III.B: Student's Networking Benchmarks and Timetable	139
Neil W. Hamilton and Kaylin Ness
APPENDIX III.C: Putting Networking to Work for You: Overlapping Skills	141
APPENDIX III.D: No. 1. 360 Degree Assessments	159
360-Degree Assessment for Team Projects	159
APPENDIX III.E: Richard Hackman's Six Misperceptions about Teamwork	163
I. Commitment to the Employing Organization	164
Benjamin Carpenter
1. Ten Core Principles	165
a. Rule 1: The Golden Rule—Make Your Colleagues' Lives Easier	165
b. Rule 2: You Are Not as Busy as the Person You Are Working For	165
c. Rule 3: Your First Client Is Your Employer	166
d. Rule 4: Never Turn Down a Project	166
e. Rule 5: Never Miss a Deadline	166
f. Rule 6: Understand Your Role	167
g. Rule 7: Accept Responsibility	167
h. Rule 8: Be Responsive	167

xii Contents

i. Rule 9: Keep Client and Employer Confidences	167
j. Rule 10: Treat Everyone with Respect	168
2. Getting Work: Nuts and Bolts	168
a. Receiving Projects	168
b. During Projects	169
c. Handing in Projects	170
d. Follow Up	171
3. Final Thoughts	171
a. Roll Up Your Sleeves	171
b. Be Enthusiastic!	171
c. Build Genuine Relationships	171
d. Be Vulnerable	172
e. Take the Long View	172
J. Listen to Persuade: How Attentiveness Leads to Value	173
Neil W. Hamilton and Christopher Damian
1. Prepare to Question	173
2. Practice Active Listening Skills	175
3. Demonstrate Good Listening through Good Listening (Not Just Good Answering)	176
4. Listen for the Gap, Then Respond to Add Value	177
5. The Importance of a Clear Value Proposition to Create a Lasting Impression	178
6. A Unified Process	179
K. Project Management Skills: How Law Students Can Learn and Implement the Skills Employers Value	180
Neil W. Hamilton and Patrick Lucke
1. The Project Management Methodology	181
a. The Planning Phase	183
b. The Build-Up Phase	184
c. The Implementation Phase	185
d. The Closeout Phase	186
2. How Lawyers Are Using Project Management Skills to Succeed in Business	186
a. Creating Project Management Plans Tailored to Objectives	187
b. Delineating and Scheduling Requisite Activities for the Project	187
c. Organizing a Team to Accomplish the Objective of a Project	188

3. How Law Students Can Practice Project Management Skills during Law School	189
a. Applying the Project Management Methodology to Solo Projects	189
b. Applying Project Management Methodologies to Group Projects	191
4. Assessment Tools Students Can Use to Gauge Project Management Acumen	193
5. Conclusion	197
L. The Competencies Legal Employers Want and Each Student's Professional Formation	197
Neil W. Hamilton, Verna Monson, and Jerome M. Organ
1. Professional Formation as the Foundation Both for Each Student's Professional Effectiveness and for the Profession's Social Contract	198
a. The Capacities and Skills Necessary for Effective Lawyering	198
b. The Capacities and Skills Included in Professional Formation	199
2. Empirical Research on the Most Effective Curriculum, Culture, and Pedagogies to Foster Professional Formation	203
a. The Carnegie Studies and Effective Pedagogies for Professional Formation	203
b. Empirical Research on Pedagogies of Professional Formation Linked to the Four Component Model	205
3. FCM Research Findings That Apply to All Law-School Educational Engagements on Professional Formation	207
a. Stage-Appropriate Educational Engagements	207
b. Questioning Strategies to Foster Professional Identity: Cognitive Disequilibrium and Optimal Conflict	207
c. General Pedagogical Approaches That Foster Reflective Judgment (Moral Judgment)	208
d. Repeated Opportunities throughout the Curriculum with Respect to Professional Formation	208
e. Teacher-Facilitated Discussion of Ethical Dimensions of Cases That Foster Moral Reasoning and Judgment	208
f. Case Method Approaches That Foster Professional Identity	209
g. Service Learning That Fosters Moral Reasoning	209

4. FCM Empirical Research Findings That Apply to Team-Based Instruction	210
a. Constructive Controversy to Foster Moral Reasoning, Moral Motivation and Identity, and Moral Implementation	210
b. Formal Cooperative Learning to Foster Moral Implementation	211
c. Peer Coaching for Moral Implementation through Relationship Skills	212
5. FCM Empirical Research Relating to Individualized Instruction	213
a. Ethical Sensitivity Testing to Foster Empathy	213
b. Coaching and Identity Formation	213
c. Role-Play/Coaching to Foster Moral Implementation	213
M. I Don't Know What I Want, Now What? For Students Having Difficulty with Choosing a Career Path	215
Neil W. Hamilton, Bryan M. Wachter, and Madeleine Coulter
1. Selecting Several Options	216
2. Focusing on Transferable Skills	217
 SECTION IV: Available Resources to Navigate Your Roadmap
A. Introduction	221
Neil W. Hamilton, Carl J.L. Numrich
B. Supporting Your Value Proposition with Evidence	221
Neil W. Hamilton and Bryan M. Wachter, and Katherine Jirik
1. Developing a Plan for Your Remaining Time in Law School	222
2. Developing Long-Term Relationships	223
3. Building a Portfolio	224
4. Visit Your School's Office Dedicated to Career and Professional Development	225
5. Conclusion	226
 APPENDIX IV.A: Directions for Completing Electronic Template	227
Neil W. Hamilton
Downloading and Completing the Roadmap Template	227
 APPENDIX IV.B: How to Navigate Resources for Researching Potential Employers	229
Neil W. Hamilton and Robert Maloney

A. Introduction	229
1. Research by Type of Employer	229
2. Research by Practice Area	230
3. Employment and Volunteer Opportunities While in Law School	230
B. Finding out More Information about Your Most Promising Employment Options	230
C. Gaining Experience in Your Most Promising Employment Options While You Are in Law School	232
Neil W. Hamilton and Bryan M. Wachter
APPENDIX IV.C: Roadmap Template for Students Who Already Have Postgraduate Employment	237
Neil W. Hamilton and Bryan M. Wachter
APPENDIX IV.D: Other Empirical Evidence on the Competencies Important in the Hiring Decision	251
Neil W. Hamilton
Index	259